Letter from The President

Manuel Arango, the Founder of the Mexican Center for Philanthropy, defines philanthropy as “generosity in action.” AFP Greater Cincinnati’s annual signature event is our National Philanthropy Day Luncheon that we will be hosting again on November 8th at Music Hall. NPD truly is a celebration of all the giving, volunteering and charitable engagement that accomplishes so much good in our community. Our NPD Committee has been working diligently behind the scenes for months as they prepare to celebrate how our region is so much better because of our collective philanthropy. Along with the luncheon, we also spotlight a critically important portion of work going on in our nonprofit community.

Besides the NPD Awards, this year part of our program will center on children with a focus of the effects of ACEs (adverse childhood experiences) on housing, mental health and education throughout their lives. Donna Jackson Nakazawa, a frequent contributor for Psychology Today, says that “the beginning of potential recovery starts with understanding how the past can spill into the present, and how a tough childhood can become a tumultuous, challenging adulthood, but there are new possibilities of healing.” With that in mind, our tagline for our event this year will be “History is not destiny.”

Personally, I’ve approached NPD in two ways the past couple of years. First, I want to attend just so I can support what AFP does and to celebrate all of our members’ collective philanthropic efforts and impact throughout the year. But I’ve also started to utilize NPD as a stewardship tool with a few key DSAGC donors. We are not a large nonprofit, but we sponsor a table and our development team strategically invites a few donors – first, to simply spend time with them in an uplifting environment and two, to thank them for their generosity towards our mission.

In the months ahead, you will see multiple opportunities to register for NPD. I hope you will not only register, but also ponder who else you might want to invite. You might want to consider sponsoring a whole table as a way of honoring a group of donors. See you on November 8th at Music Hall!

With Appreciation,
Jim Hudson

BE the CAUSE is the cooperative, annual fund of the AFP Foundation for Philanthropy and the U.S. AFP Chapters. This year our chapter's goal is to raise $4,000. These funds will support AFP member education, training, mentoring, and research.

Have you made a donation yet to the 2018 BE the CAUSE Campaign? This annual campaign benefits both our Cincinnati AFP chapter and the national AFP Foundation for Philanthropy. Donations support initiatives focused on three pillars: Diversity & Inclusion, Professional Development, and Research. The campaign is your chance to invest in the future of our profession and advance philanthropy for the greater good!

We're encouraging all Cincinnati chapter members to contribute to this important campaign. (Don't forget to log on to AFP's website so the gift will be tied to our chapter).
